Equalities Duties Update

PURPOSE OF REPORT

To update Members on HITRANS Equalities Duties that have been updated with two reports required to be published by 30th April 2023 – the Equalities Outcomes Report and Mainstreaming the Equality Duty Report.

OVERVIEW

The Equality Act came into force on 1st October 2010 and brings together over 116 separate pieces of legislation into one single Act. The Act provides a legal framework to protect the rights of individuals and advance equality of opportunity for all. The Act includes a public sector equality duty which came into force on 5th April 2011.

The purpose of the public sector equality duty is to ensure that public authorities and those carrying out a public function consider how they can positively contribute to a more equal society through advancing equality and good relations in their day-to-day business. The public sector equality duty covers the following protected characteristics: age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

The Equality Act 2010 defines ‘general equality duties’ as follows:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other prohibitive conduct
- Advance equality and opportunity between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not
- Foster good relations between people who share protected characteristics and those who do not

The Act also sets out that:

- Meeting different needs includes (among other things) taking steps to take account of disabled people’s disabilities
- Fostering good relations means tackling prejudice and promoting understanding between people of different groups
- Meeting the general equality duty may involve treating some people more favourably than others

SPECIFIC DUTIES

The specific duties are the steps required to deliver the general duties as outlined above. The actions required by HITRANS are:

 - This report is to:
 - Define a set of equality outcomes which it considers will enable the authority to better perform the general equality duty

HITRANS Equalities Outcomes have been compiled based on available evidence of national and local transport inequality as well as involvement through a Transport Equality Survey launched by HITRANS in 2021. Draft versions of these reports are attached for comment and approval ahead of publication.
